WHERE POSSIBILITY MEETS PERSEVERANCE

meet BRIANA JAMES FIRST-GEN STUDENT SHINES IN AND OUT OF THE CLASSROOM

Briana James is a first-generation college student, honor graduate, student ambassador, and political science major who plans to pursue a career in law.

"I think being a first-gen college student has pushed me to advocate for myself and look for whatever my college can offer, and UC Blue Ash has offered me a lot!"

Through her excellence in the classroom and her non-stop involvement on campus

(it seems like she is everywhere), Briana was recognized as the 2023 UC Blue Ash Honor Student of the Year.

"Being named Honor Student of the Year felt surreal. It shows that all the work I've done has really paid off and I feel so appreciated for all the things I've done."

Briana followed that amazing recognition by participating in the 2023 UC Blue Ash Study Abroad program that took her and her classmates to England and Germany and offered courses in everyday sustainability as well as design thinking and problem-solving.

"I wanted to have this perspective to consider possible opportunities to work abroad. I believe working abroad isn't just simply getting to live and work in a different country but rather being able to adapt your skills to a culture and society that may be different from your own."

THE RAUF SIBLINGS

FINDING A HOME AWAY FROM HOME

After traveling thousands of miles, three siblings found a home at UC Blue Ash. Originally from Pakistan, Fatima, Zainub and Hamza Rauf have lived in multiple countries, as well as different states in the U.S. All three say they found a home at UC Blue Ash, where they have thrived as students pursuing different career paths.

Fatima Rauf said she focused on the University of Cincinnati from the beginning as she was considering her college options.

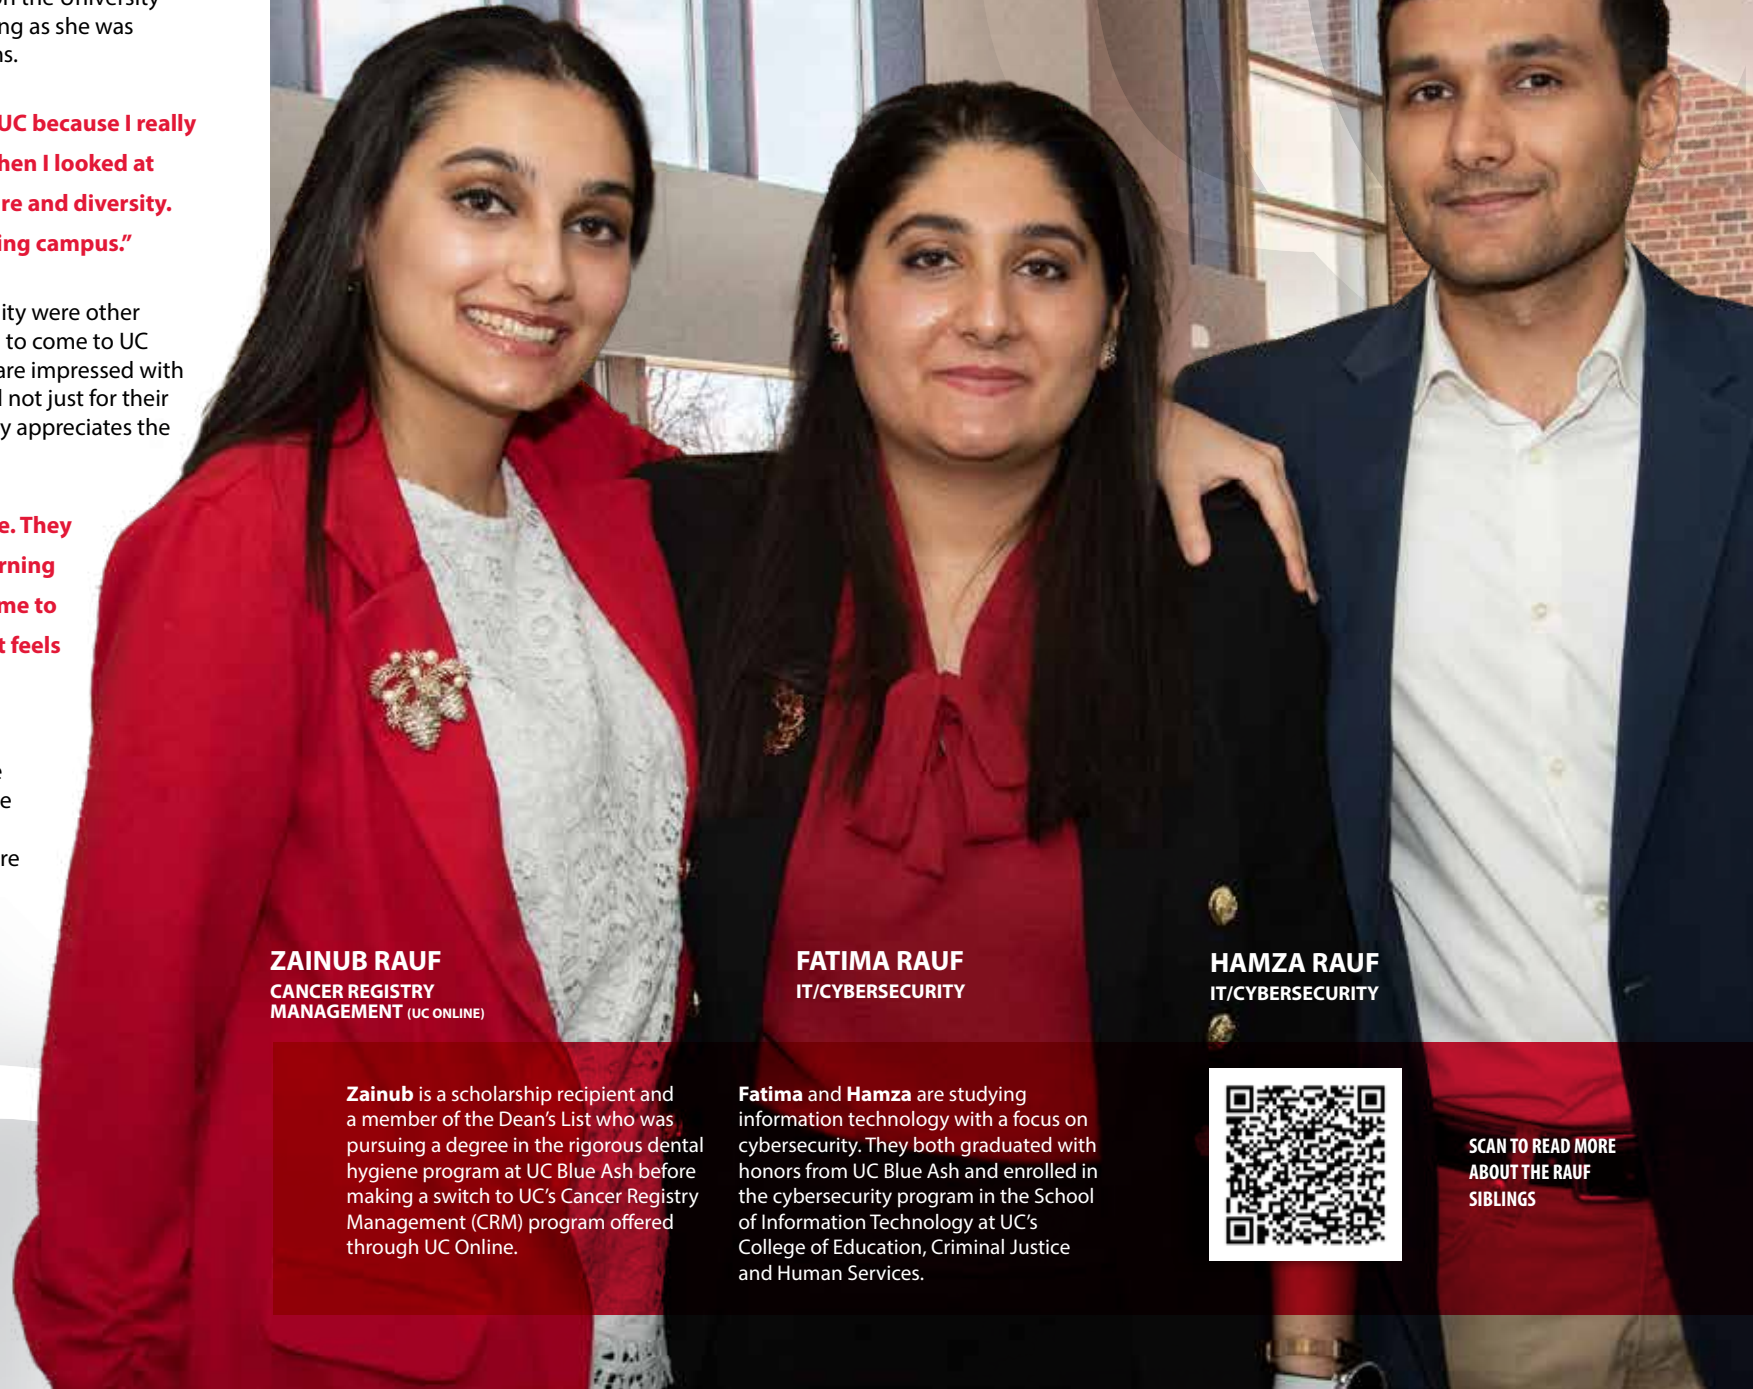

“I first became interested in UC because I really liked the co-op programs. When I looked at UC Blue Ash, I liked the culture and diversity. It’s a very warm and welcoming campus.”

Small class sizes and affordability were other factors in the siblings’ decision to come to UC Blue Ash. They each said they are impressed with the faculty at UC Blue Ash, and not just for their expertise. Fatima said she really appreciates the personal approach.

“The professors are awesome. They are very involved in your learning process, and they take the time to get to know their students. It feels just like home here.”

The three siblings remain very close and said they plan to live in the same area as they pursue their professional goals after graduation. Regardless of where their careers take them, they know they will always have a home at UC Blue Ash.

TREVOR NEALY MANAGING HIS EDUCATION & CAREER

Trevor Nealy is a sophomore at UC Blue Ash who is already starting a career in project management. He has completed two co-op sessions with Procter & Gamble, one of the top companies in the world, and gained valuable experience in supply chain management, interpreting data to drive business decisions, and the logistics of moving products to destinations around the world.

"I've always liked to view businesses as a system. I'm a very systematic thinker and I enjoy seeing all of the moving cogs within the machine, so to speak, and seeing where we can best apply direct effort in order to fully optimize the system."

Trevor is studying business administration with plans to earn a bachelor's degree in information systems. He says he appreciates the small class sizes and the focus on individual attention at UC Blue Ash. He is also grateful for our Career Services office. It was through the office that he learned about the co-op program at Procter & Gamble, received help on his resume, and continues to receive guidance for thriving in a corporate setting.

"Career Services has been an incredibly helpful tool. I highly recommend every student reach out to the office if they're interested, not just to get into a co-op or internship now, but even in the future. I wouldn't be where I am now if it wasn't for Career Services."

Professor Trimble is active in producing public art, and was thrilled to be selected by UC to create the mural honoring the 2021 Distinguished Alumni Award recipients.

PROFESSOR NICOLE TRIMBLE
MEDIA COMMUNICATIONS & TECHNOLOGY

Nicole Trimble loves teaching at UC Blue Ash. She credits the close-knit faculty community and small class sizes with creating an atmosphere that allows her to be her best self.

“At UC Blue Ash, I’m able to know everyone by name and feel like I know them as an individual, which helps me be a better teacher.”

A self-proclaimed “art nerd,” Trimble has a studio art background and an active studio practice. Joining the Media Communications & Technology department has expanded her view of what her art-making can look like – allowing her to explore how to connect the media production field with more traditional fine arts disciplines. She thrives on sharing her art with her students and helping them find their own artistic vision.

“The most fulfilling part of my job is feeling like I made a difference, no matter how small, in a student’s life, education, career goals – heck, even just their day.”

Getting messages from recent graduates is her favorite part about teaching.

“I get invested in my student’s success pretty easily, and to see them put in that same level of investment in their studies, in what they’re making or producing, in following their dreams – that’s the good stuff!”

JENNAVIEVE HARVEY SHARPENING HER LEADERSHIP & SOCIAL MEDIA SKILLS

Jennavieve Harvey found exactly what she was looking for at UC Blue Ash College.

"I grew up in the Cincinnati area and knew I wanted to pursue an education after high school while staying local. UC Blue Ash was affordable and had the small college campus I was looking for. The staff was welcoming, and the resources were exactly what I needed!"

Jennavieve thrived in the classroom where she graduated Magna Cum Laude with her associate degree in social work. She was also everywhere on campus where she served as a Student Ambassador, attended a wide range of events, and helped create content for the college's official social media sites. You may have seen her hosting an Instagram Takeover or conducting 'Man on the Street' interviews for a variety of videos.

"My favorite thing about UC Blue Ash is the leadership opportunities offered to students. I saw my leadership abilities grow and flourish as I was led by faculty and staff and met so many incredible people along the way."

Jennavieve is continuing her education at the UC Uptown campus where she plans to pursue a master's degree in social work and eventually open a safe house for women.

PLANNING A FUTURE IN URBAN PLANNING

Troy Spitzmiller is studying economics with a focus on urban planning, but he wasn't always sure about his career path. After graduating from Mason High School, Troy tried college briefly and then worked as an auto technician for six years before deciding to get his future in gear.

"I chose UC Blue Ash because it's close to home and it felt like a good starting point for someone like me who had been out of college for a while."

He has thrived at UC Blue Ash where he was recognized in 2023 as the Outstanding Student in Applied Calculus and served as a Student Ambassador. Troy says the supportive environment at UC Blue Ash really makes a difference.

"The small class sizes meant that every single professor I've had here has known my name and I have developed personal/professional relationships with many of them, which has helped me immensely in my academics."

Troy also participated in the 2023 British Summer Study Abroad program and saw how some European cities incorporate sustainable practices into urban planning.

"I have become even more eager and excited to take my urban planning classes at UC and try to initiate those changes here."

APPLY FOR FINANCIAL AID

Students interested in applying for financial aid must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online at studentaid.gov. The FAFSA is available starting October 1. Because some aid programs are awarded on a first-come, first-served basis, an early application receives priority consideration for limited funding sources.

Financial Aid Checklist

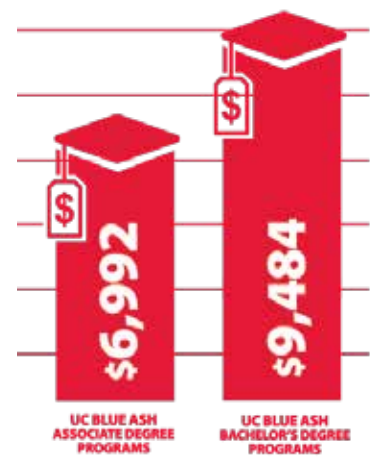

- Complete a FAFSA online at studentaid.gov. UC FAFSA code is 003125. Allow 4-6 weeks for processing.
- Once you receive your Student Aid Report (SAR), review for corrections. If none are needed, keep in a file for future use.
- Once you have been admitted and you receive your SAR, check your Bearcat Portal/Catalyst for your aid status.
- Once your aid has been accepted, complete loan counseling, and sign promissory notes online by visiting onestop.uc.edu.
